

CONTENTS.

	PAGE
WITHIN THE MAZE. By the Author of "East Lynne."
Chap. XX. Only one fly at the station . . . . .	1
XXI. Hard to bear . . . . .	9
XXII. The Maze invaded . . . . .	21
XXIII. A new lodger in Paradise Row . . . . .	81
XXIV. Nurse Chaffin on duty . . . . .	90
XXV. Watching the House . . . . .	101
XXVI. Afternoon Service . . . . .	161
XXVII. At Lawyer St. Henry's . . . . .	169
XXVIII. Another Kettledrum . . . . .	179
XXIX. Only a Night-owl . . . . .	241
XXX. Baffled . . . . .	252
XXXI. At Scotland Yard . . . . .	263
XXXII. Ill-omened Chances . . . . .	321
XXXIII. Ann Hopley startled . . . . .	329
XXXIV. Up the Spouts and down the Drains . . . . .	337
XXXV. Taken from the Evil to come . . . . .	345
XXXVI. News for Mr. Tatton . . . . .	401
XXXVII. At the Red Dawn . . . . .	408
XXXVIII. Laid to his Rest . . . . .	420
XXXIX. Repentance . . . . .	422
XL. Only a Man like other Men . . . . .	428
Conclusion . . . . .	432
 JOHNNY LUDLOW'S PAPERS.
A Day of Pleasure . . . . .	199
The Final Upshot . . . . .	278
 Adaml : An Alpine Story . . . . .
Aged, The . . . . .	272
Amid the Alps . . . . .	234
At the Green Dragon . . . . .	390
Burgomaster's Guest, The . . . . .	434
Caught in a Prairie Storm . . . . .	75
Cyrilla Maude. By the Author of "East Lynne." . . . .	489
Dash for Life, A . . . . .	459
Day among Brazilian Waterfalls, A . . . . .	229
Day of Pleasure, A. By Johnny Ludlow . . . . .	199
Down Channel . . . . .	110
Final Upshot, The. By Johnny Ludlow . . . . .	278
Geoffrey Chaucer. By Alice King . . . . .	192
In the Cloisters . . . . .	160
"I sh all hear in Heaven." . . . .	320

	PAGE
Larry's Hut . . . . .	371
Litany for a Soul departing . . . . .	400
Lost, The . . . . .	126
Memories . . . . .	240
Miller of Manneville, The. By Julia Kavanagh. Illustrated . . . . .	463
Miss Douglas . . . . .	304
Night's Vigils, A . . . . .	143
On the History of the Novel in England . . . . .	273
Paper and its Substitutes . . . . .	352
"Parole d'Honneur" . . . . .	356
Prèsmer: A French Story . . . . .	57, 127
Quite by Accident . . . . .	484
Scarborough . . . . .	30
Serenade . . . . .	370
Sigurd's Beard . . . . .	382
Sketch from Life, A . . . . .	299
Statira . . . . .	217
Story of a Day, A . . . . .	42
Through the Churchyard . . . . .	56
When this Short Life is O'er . . . . .	148

POETRY.

The Lost . . . . .	162
Through the Churchyard. By Emma Rhodes . . . . .	56
In the Cloisters. By Sarah Doudney . . . . .	160
The Sailors . . . . .	191
Memories . . . . .	240
The Aged . . . . .	272
"I shall hear in Heaven" . . . . .	320
Serenade . . . . .	370
Litany for a Soul Departing . . . . .	400
Out at Sea . . . . .	516

ILLUSTRATIONS.

By M. ELLEN EDWARDS.

"I thought the fly was there for hire."

"Not one of them interrupted Nurse Chaffen's story."

"Listening to the bells as she picked the mignonette."

"Mr. Strange came in, admiring everything, and assuring Nurse Chaffen that he preferred wet floors to dry ones."

" 'Not for ever, my dear,' said Miss Diana. 'You will go to him, though he will not return to you.' "

"Miss Blake heard the crash of the gravel upon the windows, and thought it must be housebreakers."

By A. C. H. LUXMOORE.

"Mariette, Mariette, you will never be ready, cried a voice far away."

